

AVA ST. CLAIRE

SPEAKER | TEACHER | ADVISOR

Personal Profile

Driven by a need to uncover the truth and communicate with clarity, Ava maintains a set of skills ranging from Visual Design to Writing to Open Data. She enjoys helping others do their highest, best work by making novel connections between seemingly disparate ideas. As a scholar of psychology and Sociology at John F. Kennedy University and the University of Chicago, her interests sit at the intersection of Consciousness, Society, Technology, and Design. She helps communities and organizations move humanity forward.

Topics

Artificial Intelligence Policy, Consciousness, Spirituality, Race and Technology, Business Marketing & Communication, Business Leadership & Systems

Process & Approach

ADVISING | ORDER FROM CHAOS

For corporations, organizations, and executives. I take the spiritual-emotional aspects of any challenge seriously. Clients must be willing to do this part of work for services to commence and continue.

Truth

Gather and synthesize the right information
Qualitative methods | interviews, ethnographies, etc.
Quantitative method | data collection and analysis

Clarity

Consensus on issues and next steps
Comprehensive plan for way forward
Training for execution of the plan

Peace

Ongoing audits, advisement, and supervision transition to mastery

Academic Training

Studying human behavior to design, build, and regulate systems.

University of Chicago

Graham School, Graduate-At-Large

- Research in Philosophy of Science, Artificial Intelligence
- Coursework in Race, Society, Religion, Science, and Ethics

John F. Kennedy University

Psychology | Consciousness & Transformation

- Research in Philosophy of Mind, Artificial Intelligence
- Coursework in Human Development, Cosmology

Harrington College of Design

Master of Fine Arts, Commercial Interior Design

- Technology in Experiential Design
- Architectural Research Methods in Marginalized Communities

Florida State University

Bachelor of Science, Urban Planning

TEACHING | JOY, MAGIC, & CURIOSITY

There is so much joy in bringing insightful approaches to old problems. I have a great affection for and devotion to this craft which includes workshop facilitation, lectures, panels, and general speaking opportunities.

Context

Building context from a foundation of empathy for the learner.

Curiosity

Open dialogue that nourishes intellectual curiosity.

Clarity

Connect at the human level for life-long learning